Daniel will be followed in 2020 by Matt Erickson of LocumTenens.com, currently serving as President-elect.

“We’re so excited to have Matt accept the role as President-elect. Just two years after joining the board, he’s already served as Vice President and co-chaired the meeting and conference committee. His passion and commitment has been evident; I look forward to watching him take the work that has been laid out over the past view years and take NALTO® to the next level,” adds Stanley.

In addition, NALTO® announced two new members to its Board of Directors:
